CONGRESSMAN IS HERE AT RANCH

Clarence F. Lea and Wife Arrive From Washington, D. C., and Are Enjoying Life at Schellville. Discusses Topics of Importance.

Congressman C. F. Lea, accompanied by his wife who has been very ill, arrived home from Washington, D. C., this week. They have been enjoying an outing at their Schellville ranch but Mr. Lea expects to have to return East for a special session of Congress in May.

Mr. Lea spoke at length on the work of Congress as it pertains to this district and of the general sentiment in Washington on all matters of nation-wide interest. He is quoted on some local matters of interest in the following

League of Nations Assured

"The general sentiment around Washington indicates that the League of Nations covenant will be ratified by the Senate. The 39 Senators who signed a statement that they would not vote for the ratification of the constitution without amendment showed in that statement that they would vote for it if necessary. There is no one in the United States Senate, with very few exceptions, who is opposed to a League of Nations. But, of coures, many contend that the constitution could or should be amended to the benefit of this country.

Petaluma Dredging Work

"It is expected that work will begin upon the Petaluma river dredging, including the dredging of the San Pablo flats and straghtening of the channel, immediately. This work was stopped at the begining of the war, but money is now available for its completion. The work will require three seasons to complete.

The San Rafael Canal

"The government has provided funds for the San Rafael canal. Work will be commenced as soon as San Rafael provides one-half of the funds to be used, acording to agreement. The other half is on hand and the government is ready to proceed.

Favors Road Improvements

"Sonoma county cannnot make any great progress until she builds good roads. In the last two years I have seen a great part of the United States and the only portion which is making any progress are those in which good roads have been constructed. There is no doubt but that there has been more money spent in Sonoma county on the upkeep of poor roads than the interest will amount to on the bonds for permanent roads."

ZEPH MARCY BACK FROM WAR

Sonoma Boy Was With Trench Artillery Force In Many Battles Over In France.

Zephyin Marcy, 24 year old son of J. G. Marcy of this place returned home Thursday night after serving two years in the army and being at the front in France in the great campaigns of the Aisne, Meuse, Toul, Marne, Argonne and Michels.

Marcy was a horse shoer and took care of as many as 125 horses and mules which were used in hauling the supplies to the trenches. He was 11 months at the front and saw lots of fighting, heaps of dead and many wounded. He came through it all without a scratch, although one night right near him, 16 horses were killed outright by a big German shell and one horse, the only one of the lot that was not killed, suffered a bad case of shell shock. Many times Marcy was forced to dig in on account of air raids and shelling by the enemy, but his horse shoes evidently protected him through it all, for Zeph came out of the army unscratched and weighing 215 pounds, although he has lost some weight since. When he left Sonoma in April 1917, he weighed just 160 pounds. He received an honorable discharge and excellent character recommendation, and says the secret of getting along in the army is for a fellow to keep his mouth shut and his eyes open.

Te commends the work of the Salvation Army and the Red Cross over in France and says they treated the boys right.

A solid silver chain of beautiful workmanship which he took from a German prisoner is one of his cherished souvenirs of the war:

Zeph spent several days in Paris and Nancy after the armistice was signed and at one time had a 17 day furlough to go to Italy but he did not avail himself of the latter trip.

Enroute home his boat encountered stormy weather and was four days overdue when she reached the Atlantic port. Zeph is glad to be back in Sunny California and his folks are delighted to see him as none of the letters he wrote ever reached them and they were much worried.

FUNERAL OF MRS. ANGELO BERETTA

The funeral of Mrs. Angelo Beretta, wife of Sonoma's city trustee, took place last Sunday from St. Francis Church. A large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives followed the remains to their last resting place in Mountain Cemetery where beside her beloved parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. L. Modini, all that was mortal of Mary Modini Beretta was consigned to eternal rest.

Handsome floral pieces, which included pillows of carnations and roses, broken wheels, sprays and wreathes, tributes from the City of Sonoma, the Sonoma Ice & Brewing Company, the bereaved relatives and friends of the family, marked the resting place of a beloved wife and sister.

Sonoma Mission Creamery Expects To Deal In Local Poultry

Progressive Firm Contemplates New Branch of Thriving Enterprise

It is announced on good authority that the enterprising partners of the Sonoma Mission Creamery will shortly engage in the buying and shipping of poultry to the San Francisco market and will establish a depot here where they will handle a large number of chickens. Poultrymen will thus benefit by the further enterprise of this flourshing concern which will pay market price for all kinds of table fowl and will have an expert here to handle this branch of their business.

The former Bose ice plant will be the site of the proposed new business enterprise which should prove a boon to the farmers of Sonoma Valley.

The Mission Creamery proprietors are fostering a lot of commendable local enterprise and their business with Sonoma Valley dairymen now amounts to over $480 per day which is paid out here for milk alone. In addition the creamery buys Sonoma eggs and cream, so it is readily seen that Messrs Vella, Icona and C. Sganzini are responsible for a lot of good money being put into circulation in Sonoma Valley. Fifty four dairymen bring their milk into the Sonoma Creamery daily and 22c per gallon is being paid for their product. This is 3c more than is paid by several creameries in near by cities.

Careful attention to business detail and good management generally enables the concern to flourish in Sonoma which was hitherto considered too limited a field for such an enterprise.

Sonoma Mission Creamery cheese of the Jack type has become famous in the city markets and when dry and used for grating is equal to the best Parmesan cheese. Quantities of this cheese is manufactured here at the Sonoma plant under the personal direction of Mr. Vella.

HERO OF WAR COMES HOME

Milton Sobbe of Glen Ellen, Who Had Arm Shot Away In Battle, Is Here On Furlough.

J. Milton Sobbe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sobbe of Glen Ellen and a popular Native Son, is home on a furlough, having arrived from over seas with many wounded men, heroes of the recent war. He has been at the Presidio but has been granted a furlough that he may visit with his folks who, since they heard of his serious wounds received in the great Argonne drive, have been much concerned over his condition.

Milton was wounded on the 4th of October and a high explosive shot away his right arm. Holding the wounded member with his other hand, the young American managed to find his way back to a first aid station where he was given treatment and later sent to a hospital where his arm had to be amputated at the elbow. Complicaions then set in and his condition became so critical that another amputation was neccessary, this time the arm being taken off at the shoulder.

Sobbe has now completelyl recovered and looks fine. He was given a rousing reception and hearty greeting by a crowd of admiring friends who gathered at the depot in Glen Ellen to welcome the stalwart patriot back to his old home town.

"DOC" WILSON DIES SUDDENLY

Son of a Pioneer Family Is Victim of Heart Trouble Sunday Last.

"Doc" Wilson, son of a pioneer family of the Sonoma valley and a painter by trade, was the victim of heart trouble last Sunday evening and died alone in his batchelor quarters in the Shocken block.

Wilson had recently been employed in painting the new home of Supervisor J. H. Weise. He had not been sick. He stopped to converse with Mr. Shocken on his way home and that was the last seen of him until about an hour later when Jimmy Green went to the house and found Wilson's lifeless body on the floor. The unfortunate man had kindled the fire and started to eat his supper when overcome. Help was summoned from Ryan's stable and a doctor called but life was pronounced extinct, death having evidently been instantaneous. A coroner's jury brought in a verdict of death from acute heart trouble.

Wm. "Doc" Wilson had lived in Sonoma for many years and was the son of a prominent pioneer who preceded him to the Great Beyond He leaves several brothers and sisters, most of whom atended the funeral Wednesday. T. B. Wilson, a prominent resident of Cloverdale was among those here for the last sad rites. Other relatives are Miss Louise Wilson, the noted missionary, Mrs. C. Fontana, Miss Agnes Wilson, Mrs. Carmer, Percy Wilson of Cloverdale, Robert Wilson of San Jose and James Wilson of Los Angeles.

Mrs J. C. Rector of Vineburg was hostess to a delightful party last Saturday.

Mrs. D. Colli returned to her pretty home Monday evening after a week's visit with San Francisco friends and relatives.

Mrs. Kooebom entertained the Shreve family from Novato last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Schoeller of Vineburg were presented with a little eight pound son this week. The baby is a native of San Francisco, having been born down there.

The Flying Needles meet next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. E. F. Converse. The new secretary is Mrs. Studley, who is also the corresponding secretary of the Womans club.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Rubke have purchased a swell new Oldsmobile through the Falletti agency in Santa Rosa. Mrs. Rubke is very clever at the wheel. of her new car.

SOLDIER TELLS OF HIS TRAVELS

Arthur Fiske Writes Interestingly of Old World In Letter Home.

Nice, France, Jan. 13, 1919

My dearest Mother:

Here is a letter for you from the shores of the Mediterranean, where I am spending a short furlough. I left camp on January 3rd., and will be back about the 19th, so you see Uncle Sam has given me quite a nice vacation. On my way down I passed through Bar le Duc, Chateau Thierry and several other towns that have been all torn up by German shells I remained in Paris tw days and then came here via Dijon, Lyons, Marseilles, etc. Since reaching here I have visited many ruins of old castles, forts and the ancient arena of Cimiez. The other day I went over to see the Provence of Monaco and visited the Prince of Monaco's palace, his gardens and museum. I also went through the world famous gambling palace at Monte Carlo. The day before yesterday I crossed over into Italy to a town by the name of Ventinillo. Near this place there is a castle called Chateau Gambaldi. Before the war it was owned by an Austrian prince but when Italy and Austria tangled horns in war matters, the Italian government took over the castle for its own use. It is on a range of the Alps mountain While over there I went through the tower of the castle and the gardens. In one part of the garden, overlooking the Mediterranean, is a concrete bench where Queen Victoria used to sit and which was dedicated to her. Well Arthur sat there too, so these queens and princes had nothing on him.

The French people here think very highly of the American soldier, and we are allowed many privileges the French soldiers do not share. I am writing this letter in the Palace Jetee, which is now the American Y. M. C. A. headquarters but before the war was one of the finest places of entertainment in Europe.

My stay here now is growing short and I surely hate to think of returning to camp and work again, but I do not think it will be long now before I will be on my way back to the good old states, although I expect they will postpone signing peace terms again.

Lovingly
Corporal Arthur Fiske,

Miss Hallie Rambo was summoned to the bedside of her aged father at Graton, owing to his critical illness. He is 84 and had a stroke.

The Wave of Reform and It's Aftermath

Henry Watterson's intensely interesting and human articles in the "Saturday Evening Post," on the eight political decades, contains in part the author's version of this country after the denaturing process of present day reform. He sees American in the grasp of new and strange creeds, cults and religion, dominated by Orientals and strange peoples, instead of the ones we know, defend and criticize today. He ventures to offer his clever opinions, as the musings of a perhaps decadent septuagenarian, but when we contemplate what is going on about us, very close to us here in California, Watterson's view is easily coined into reality, the remote becomes a likelihood and looms menacingly before us. Stop and consider how the regulation of prohibition and the meddling with the intimate details of living will effect the foreign element which has long been the sinew of the nation and has been welded into a citizenship which we are so rightfully proud. These people are chafing at the interference with their native customs, which we welcomed with their coming and transplanted to our shores. We now suddenly deprecate their habits, tell them their vines and wines pollute the land and that we were wrong in giving government and state aid to viticulture and accepting the wealth produced by wines and similar beverages. The voice of the fanatic thus wails throughout the country and stampedes our law makers into framing iniquitous instruments to take away the rights and livelihood of those we welcomed here.

The resultant tendency will be, not only to pour well seasoned vintage from bottles, but to empty the couny of rich, red, Romantic blood and to refill it with Japanese, Hindus, Chinese and kindred races to carry on the work of the county. For as yet we have not begun to infringe upon the customs of these races or repudiate them and they will thrive and multiply to such an extent that when reform lifts its head in criticism, it will find itself completely swamped and outnumbered, for the Japanese race, for instance, is not only prolific, but avails itself of every chance to be assertive and would not like the easy going foreigners we best know shirk the right of suffrage and thus be rendered powerless to combat. The Oriental once given the opportunity will transcend other races rapidly, availing themselves of all opportunities, even to overwhelmingly submerging the people they would supplant when the latter shall have been discouraged and driven out to more tolerant territory.

Who would exchange this condition for what we now have? What conditions will supplant present ones in the United States when new workers, endowed with obsessionists highly moral, non-alcoholic requirement, unite their yellow strength with the yellow spirit and choleric temperment of our present day fanatics? One does not have to have a very powerful imagination to divine the noxious, nauseating atmosphere which would prevail under such a regime and to realize how it would stifle the civilization we now enjoy. Toward such a chaos, however, reformers are hurrying us. Says Watterson in masterly paragraphs along these lines:

"The doctrine of perfectibility is nowhere one with itself. It speaks in diverse tongues. Its processes and objects are variant. It seems but an iridescent dream which lends itself equally to the fancies of the impracticable and the scheming of the insincere, breeding mainly visionaries and pretenders.

"Easily assumed and asserted, too often it becomes intolerant and tyrannous, dealing with things outer and visible while taking little if any account of the inner lights of the soul. Thus it imposes upon credulity and ignorance; makes fakers of some and fanatics of others; in politics were not an engine of despotism a corrupt influence; in religion where not a zealot a breeder of cant. In short, the apostle of uplift who, disregarding individual character, would make virtue a matter of statute law and ordain uniformity of conduct by act of conventicle of assembly is likelier to produce moral chaos than to reach the sublime state he claims to seek.

"The suggestion is full of startling possibilities. Individualism was the discovery of the fathers of the American Republic. It is the bedrock of the American philosophy. Human slavery was an indefensible institution. But the armed enforcement of freedom did not make a black man a white man. Nor will the wave of fanaticism seeking to controll the food and drink and dress of the people make men better men—danger is bound to come with the inevitable reaction.

"The folly of the men is recuited by the folly of the women. The leaders of feminism would abolish sex. To what end? The pessimist answers, What easier than the demolition of a sexless world gone entirely mad? How simple the engineries of destruction. Civil war in America; universal hari-kari in Europe; the dry rot of wealth wasting itself in self-indulgence. Then a thousand years of total eclipse. Finally Macaulay's New Zealonder sketching the ruins of St. Paul's Cathedral from a broken arch of London Bridge and a Moslem conqueror of America looking from the hill of the Capitol at Washington upon the desolation of the District of Columbia. Then an Oriental renaissance with the philosophies of Buddha, Mohammed and Confucius welded into a new religion describing itself as the last word of reason and common sense! Alas, and alack the day!"

Would Better Sonoma's Postal Service

From the Superintendent's office of the Post Office department we are requested for information relative to our postal needs and the local service. Suggestions and information from those in close touch with their communities needs are sought with a view of improving conditions or keeping them up to standard. In replying to this inquiry we will call attention to the hitches in the rural service which have caused out-of-town people a lot of annoyance in the past and almost drove the local postmaster frantic. We are under the impression that the fault was in the red tape, iron clad rules which govern the appointment of rural carriers who must pass an examination and are recommended in regular order for positions whenever a vacancy occurs. Good substitute carriers are thus often ousted often for regulars who do not stay with their jobs or in an emergency no one will be found who will invest in the motor outfit required to carry the mail. At present the service is adequate but to guard against what we have experienced many times in the past, it seems incumbent upon the proper authorities to look into it.

Another thing which might be improved is the service between Sonoma and Vineburg. Copies of this newspaper posted Friday night do not get to the Vineburg post office until Monday. Letters and papers go to San Francisco first and back from there to Vineburg,which is atrocious service. There should be a postal clerk on the Northwestern in order to improve conditions such as this.

Suggestions from our readers are in order and we will make all fair presentations to the enquiring authorities with a view of getting Sonoma the best service obtainable. It is refreshing to know that the public is being considered. Now for the railroads! When will they ask us how our railway service can be bettered.

Why rave over tobacco growing as a flourishing industry in Yolo county? Prohibition 'ill get that if they don't watch out.

Friends are being sought to combat the jack-rabbit pest. Why not combat the jack-ass pest?

The community with poor roads always has it's ups and downs. The community with modern highways is always on top.

A PROTEST

What do you think they are saying
Back in the U. S. A.
What do you think they're intending
For the boys that took part in the fray?
No, it's impossible guessing
In a month, a day or a year
To guess what they are thinking of doing
For the boys that fought over here.
Why "Buddy" some damned "Coffee Cooler"
Whose son from the war stayed away
Is trying to get "Uncle Sammy"
To take our Gold emblem away.
The emblem that tells of the service
And the time we spent on the line
From the days of Chateau Thierry
Till the day of our march to the Rhine
"Buddy" do you remember
The days we fought on the Vesle
When the German machine gunners bullets
Descended on us like hail.
St. Miheil where we ran crazy
And peppered the Huns as they ran
Taking the line that Germany
Had held since the damned war began.
Then the Argonne, beside the Meuse River
Where our comrades fell by the score
Where we stuck to the job and created
The chance of completing the war.
"Buddy" we will always remember
But they have forgotten the day
So they're going to take all our emblems
And banish all signs of the fray.
Cause the fellows who kept out of fighting
By the strings that were pulled by their Dad's
Won't be ashamed when they see us
And slackers won't feel quite so bad
Thats "Thank you" all in a bundle
For work neath shrapnel and shell
That's what I'd call from our people
An honest conception of hell.

FRANK GROSKOPF HAS RETURNED FROM CAMP LEWIS

Frank Groskopf has returned from Camp Lewis where he has been stationed for many months. Accompanied by his wife, the former popular Sonoma girl, Gertrude Breitenbach whom he married on the eve of his departure for war he came home Monday night and their many friends are giving them a cordial welcome.

Mrs. Groskopf has been filling a position with a film exchange in San Fracisco while her husband was in the army. She has now resigned her position and will probably settle in Vallejo as Mr. Groskopf expects to work in the navy yard.

Eugene Hunt was in town Tuesday.

GAMBONI GOES "OVER THE TOP"

Gamboni is the official title of the driver of a bus which plies between here and El Verano.

*****

Or fat ladies or anything that two ordinary horses would back up on.

*****

A team that has it in 'em to pull on any tug of war you can mention and get away with it.

*****

Gamboni went "over the top" No he didn't go over seas.

*****

You see it was like this. Being a young man with a pull he demonstrated that you can go "over the top" right here in Sonoma.

*****

It happened at Ryan's stable last Sunday morning.

*****

In the presence of a number of local wise guys who bet Gamboni that they could hitch themselves on behind his carry-all.

*****

And all the kings horses, and all the kings men could not pull them up or down or wherever it was.

*****

Gam called their bluff. They hooked on tug-of-war formation.

*****

Then Gam stood up, reins in hand urging on his trusty steeds, for he felt sure he had the drag that would win him the kale from the wise guys.

*****

But zing! Git ep the test was on! The traces busted, the equines leaped forward and Gamboni? ?Went?"over the ?-top" (of -the dash board) Being a good aviator he made a pretty good landing, but it was no feather bed dive at that.

*****

However the gang must admit that Gamboni would have put one over on them if he had not gone over himself.

P. S. Gamboni has a pull with the press, otherwise this would be charged for at regular advertising rates.

NURSE'S NOTE SHOWS THE GRIT THAT WON WAR

Sorely Wounded Soldier Sees the Job Through.

Carter Glass, secretary of the treasury, copied the following note, among others, from the note book of a Red Cross nurse when he was in France:

"One boy I shall always remember. His right shoulder was practically all shot away and he had a big wound in his back and one in his left eye. But he sat straight up and wouldn't let anybody help him. He didn't say a word while they pulled off the tight clinging gauze from the red, raw, wet flesh that quivered in spite of him. When the first wound was finished all he said was: "'Do you think I could rest a minute, Doc, before you do the second one?'"

"Red, raw, wet flesh"—American flesh. It was not yellow. Think of that when you are asked to buy of the Victory Liberty Loan, ye who think ye have done enough.

WHOSE WAR WAS IT?

Was it Smith, the banker's war or Jones, the truckman's war? Was it Labor's war or was it Capital's war? Was it Autocracy's war or was it Liberty's war? Whose war was it?

Figure it out. Then sacrifice everything and subscribe to the Victory Liberty Loan. For it was The People's War.

It isn't paid for. It must be paid for. The Victory Liberty Loan will pay for it. The people must buy because it was their war. The people are Smith and Jones. Labor and Capital.

If it wasn't the People's war, it wasn't anybody's war. So don't say "let the banks do it." It was not the bank's war. You might as well say it was Jones' war—let Jones buy the Victory Loan. He would have as much chance to subscribe five or six billion as Smith would.

The man who says "let the banks do it," is yellow. There are about 1,000,000 American lads over in Europe who are sticking it through. They are not saying let somebody else do it.

It's the last loan. Play square.

"The scope of thrift is limitless."—Thomas A. Edison.

The war will not be over until the United States government has honorably met every commitment made in order to win the war.—Carter Glass, Secretary of the Treasury.

POOR FINANCE TO LET BANKS TAKE V. LOAN

By M. S. Wildman, Head of the Department of Economics and Political Science at Stanford University, California.

Just about two years ago we began to make war and stopped making a lot of other things or made these other things only in limited supply. Railway construction came to a dead stop. Equipment was worn out faster than it was replaced. All over the country building operations were suspended. In the North Atlantic states alone the deficiency in building is estimated by the Department of Labor to exceed $500,000,000. If the situation all over the country is comparable to this, the accumulated need for construction now exceeds two billion dollars. Through a wide range of manufactures from automobiles to chewing gum curtailment was the order of the day until now we face a deficiency in numberless commodities of customary use.

The emergency which led to curtailment is happily past. The interest of all classes of people requires the quickest possible resumption of normal activity. Consumers want the goods, returning soldiers need the employment. The heavy war taxes call for correspondingly large production, while European reconstruction will open the way for exports.

This resumption of enterprise, if we embark upon it as we should, will require bank loans on a tremendous scale. The high wages and high cost of materials will necessitate advances proportionately greater than in the past. To be available for this purpose, the funds of the banks must not be absorbed by government requirements. The necessity for a wide public participation in the Victory Liberty loan is even greater than it was in the case of earlier loans when curtailment of industry diminished the needs of private business.

If the banks are compelled to carry the government, they cannot at the same time carry their customers. For every billion dollars worth of bonds left on the hands of the banks there will be just a billion less for the revival of industry and the employment of labor.

It is to the personal interest of every man and woman in America to subscribe to the Victory Liberty loan out of his or her savings.

"The woman who can save money ins masculine respect and feminine nvy."—Mrs. Carey.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER AT VINEBURG INN

Deputy Corooner Frank Welti and his charming wife came down from Santa Rosa Sunday and entertained their chief, Coroner Frank Phillips, Mrs. Phillips, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Hays, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bates and other friends at an anniversary dinner at Vineburg Inn. Minehost Martin did himself proud, and after a fine repast, the dinner guests were entertained with music and had a good time generally.

Dr. Phillips was toastmaster and ranconteur. He told how everyone of the party could get a gold crown without going to heaven and his story so impressed one of our local epicures that he declared that only he had made arrangements to go below, he would go anywhere for the gold crown, even to Petaluma, whereupon the Santa Rosa bunch applauded vociferously.

Mr. and Mrs. Welti were heartily congratulated upon their handsome and contented appearance after 22 years on the matrimonial sea, but Frank explained that he is a good sailor and his wife a good scout so they never mind the brakers and want the world to know that they have survived 57 varieties of tempests and yet, as their friends say, looks like the parson just spliced the knot.

THOUSANDS OF YOUNG FRUIT TREES SET OUT IN SONOMA VALLEY

Shipments of fruit trees into Sonoma Valley this season has run into several thousands and Inspector H. J. Dunn reports that 8000 have passed through his hands and probably as many were inspected by his predecessor. In all it is estimated that about 15000 young fruit trees will be planted here this month. Pears and prunes predominate and both fruits thrive well in Sonoma soil and climate.

Corporal Isadore Leveroni is enroute home from France where he has served his country and the allies in the great cause of democracy. The young soldier will be given a hearty reception upon his return and a fine dinner to which many relatives have been invited is on the program.

20 MINUTE FERRY SERVICE COMING THIS WAY

Probably one of the most important development undertakings for that portion of California lying along the coast and north of San Francisco bay ever suggested was proposed by Percy E. Towne of the California State Automobile Association at the meeting of the board of directors held at the Union League Club recently, involving the establishment of a twenty-minute service between San Francisco and the Marin county shore.

The plan proposed by Towne provides for a ferry route across the Golden Gate not exceeding two miles in length, touching the Marin shore, where a safe landing may be had in the lee of Lime Point and cutting off four miles of distance in the ferry trip.

When it is known that the distance between the Ferry slip and Sausalito is exactly six miles on the ferry route now used, it may be seen how much time will be saved by shortening the distance to two miles and providing a ferry of sufficient capacity to handle all the automobile traffic which may offer itself without delay.

The time estimated for the actual trip across the Golden Gate at a 12-mile speed is ten minutes, five minutes for loading and five minutes for unloading being allowed, the total time of the trip being 20 minutes, which is far less than one half of the present time.

The immediate effect of the establishment of a ferry service as is proposed would be to supply a part of that travel which now goes down the Peninsula and to send automobile outing parties into the section named where one now goes.

In looking over the situation and reviewing the possibility of the project, Towne has been in consultation with A. T. Hatch of the Monticello Steamship Company, who has declared the plan perfectly feasible from a navigation standpoint and as a result of the initiative taken by Towne, the California State Automobile Association is now planning to call a meeting in San Francisco of representative cieizens from Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino, Lake, Humboldt, Del Norte and Napa counties, at which a definite organization will be formed to advance the plan.

CHILD WELFARE WORK

The Child Welfare Congress set for next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Womans clubhouse, promises to be the best ever. Mothers all over the valley are preparing to bring their little ones (6 years old and younger) and have them weighed and measured and to get expert advice as to how to make them still more perfect before the next congress meets. They are going to do their bit toward proving that California contains the best babies in the United States. The government wants to help to bring up a superior race of citizens. "Each year we have spent millions to stamp out liseases of cattle and up to last April there had been no concerted effort to save the 150,000 babies who die needlessly in the United States each year."

Next Tuesday morning, April 1st, Dr. A. M. Thomson will be at the clubhouse to skillfully examine all the little ones that are brought there. Wednesday morning Dr. Gobar will do the same, while on the following afternoon, Thursday, Dr. Hays will give similar service. We repeat, "give," for these busy doctors are cheerfully donating their time and skill in order to help in this wonderful work. They will have expert assistance in Miss Ricard, county visiting nurse, besides other workers under the direction of Mrs. C. L. Ryland, chairman for Sonoma valley.

Don't forget to bring all your little ones. No charges.

JOHN D. ELLIS DIES AT HOME IN PETALUMA

John D. Ellis died suddenly on the 21st at the home of a friend in Petaluma, thus quickly following his only brother to the grave. The brother, Dr. J. W. Ellis, passed away March 3 in San Jose. The brothers were born in the same room of the same house and had lived close together all their lives, so it is believed probable that the death of one hastened the end of the other.

Mr. Ellis was a native of Nova Scotia, 66 years of age. He came to California 29 years ago from Australia, where he had then lived many years. Mr. Ellis was a member of the grange and of the Elks, and he leaves a considerable estate.

THE ACID TEST

Provost Marshal-General Crowder's report of the work of mobilizing the man-power of the nation under the Selective Draft Act disclosed the reason why America was able to produce such a tremendous quantity of foodstuff despite the drain upon the labor of the country by the operation of the draft. The reason was that sixty-five per cent of the farm labor of the country registered for military service was given deferred classification upon agricultural grounds.

Saving the possible exception of shipyard workers no other single industry was given such consideration as was the pursuit of farming and no class of producers was treated more fairly than the farmers. This was right and just, yet to the credit of the government.

The war is over as far as the fighting is concerned and the government turns to the people to settle up the bills incurred in ending it. It expects the farmer, individually and as a class, to retaliate with the "square deal."

The Victory Liberty Loan—the last of the Liberty Loans—is coming next month. It is going to catch the farmer at the wrong season. That is good.

It will be an acid test.

To learn to save is the first important lesson of life.

THOSE LIBERTY BONDS

There is a lot of money being spent every day in advertising with the object of separating plain Mr. American from his Liberty Bonds either by offers to buy them outright or trading in wildcat stock for them. Many plain Mr. Americans are rushing in where wise men fear to tread and are "falling" for the advertisements without thought of why the other fellow wants the bonds.

Advertising, especially the kind Liberty Bond brokers are using, costs a lot of money. Where does the buyer get off? Well, be sure he is getting off else he wouldn't advertise. He isn't in business for his health. He is after the money. It's a cinch you are helping him to a big rake-off when you trade or sell your Liberty Bonds. That's sense, isn't it?

If a Liberty Bond is worth, say, $95 to the broker after he has paid for all of his expensive advertising, it certainly is worth par or more than par to the holder. For on top of his advertising expenses the broker maintains costly offices and much help. That's sense, isn't it?

The reason the broker wants the bonds is that he or his clients want to hold them. It's the broker's business to know bond values. He knows that these Liberty Bonds are going to be valuable things—that they are going way above par—within a year or two. Hold them yourself.

Spreading rails are said to be responsible for a serious wreck of a freight train and the derailment of eight cars at a point between Sears and Reclamation last Sunday. THE NEW SEWER EXTENSION

H. P. Dwyer, a local surveyor, residing on the old Johnson place, has been engaged by the city of Sonoma to make surveys and estimate cost of constructing the new sewer extension to meet the needs of the Sebastiani cannery. Mrs. B. Bulotti has offered the city a right of way through her property which will make construction less costly as excavation will be less difficult than at first planned.

While it was originally intended to call a bond election for the new sewer, it is now thought that the city dads will take the necessary cost from the general fund thus ensuring the improvement at an early date.

The condition of the town finances with the paramount neccessity of the sewer which comes first does not seem to indicate that Sonoma is to have any new street work done this year. In fact the Trustees admit that after July first and the elimination of saloon license revenue, the town will face a serious deficit.

PIONEER MOTHER CELEBRATES 90th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. J. A. Poppe, pioneer mother of the Sonoma Valley, celebrated her 90th birthday last Tuesday and was the center of an admiring circle of relatives and friends who as is the yearly custom tendered her a very enjoyable birthday party at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Kate Buchan. The four score and ten years found the much respected lady hale and hearty and as eager as in her younger days to enter into all the festivities of the afternoon.

The house was a bower of beautiful flowers for these are the presents she treasures the most and every year her friends and dear ones remember her with plants and blossoms of various kinds. Her son, Colonel Robt. Poppe learned that she wanted lilies of the valley and he telegraphed to an Oakland florist for them. In addition were many rare and lovely plants and a large number of cards and congratulating letters to delight the grand old lady who has come to her 90th milestone beloved by many old friends and surrounded by dutiful children, grandchildren and great grandchildren too. She was able to enjoy the bounteous repast served at a prettily decorated table where early spring flowers once more graced this always pleasant scene and seemed to breathe too their welcome and congratulatious of the coming of another festival in honor of this birthday.

There was music and pleasant conversation and an informal reception until twilight time and all departed with wishes for many happy returns of the day.

Mrs. Poppe was one of Sonoma Valley's earliest settlers and with her husband conducted a general merchandise store here for years and at his death succeeded him in the entire management of it. She is widely known as Sonoma's pioneer lady merchant.

She is often seen up town and despite her 90 years is bright and keen and has a most wonderful memory.

YOUNG COUPLE PLIGHT TROTH

John Canevari Takes Bride at Santa Rosa Last Saturday.

Jack Canevari, who returnel from France with the Grizzlies and some time ago announced his engagement, was married last Saturday at the City of Roses to Miss Spooncer of that place. Owing to the Lenten season ,the wedding was a quiet affair, attended only by the immediate family. The brother of the groom was his best man and a sister of the bride, her attendant.

The young couple will reside in Val lejo where Mr. Canevari has a fine position with the Standard Oil Company.

They expect to spend Easter Sunday with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Canevari, who will entertain the newly weds at a fine dinner.

Mrs. Canevari, the bride, is a fine looking young woman and is a daughter of a former councilman of the county seat. She was the recipient of many beautiful wedding presents which will grace the attractive apartment of the couple at the navy town.

Maurice Power, the former local tailor, is now established at Santa Clara and has a fine college town trade between Santa Clara and Stanford universities. Sonoma friends will be glad to hear of Mr. Power's success. The family continue to reside in San Francisco. Mr. Power commutes but they may move to Santa Clara later on.

Geo. Engler and Pete Fognini were prominent Sonomans in San Francisco last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Tate have rented the home formerly occupied by Mrs. Kehoe and family.

Mrs. Tom McCauley and little daughter were visitors at the Schell home the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Leveroni and little son, Bobby, were visiting relatives in the vicinity of Petaluma on Sunday.

A romance in which a young soldier now in France and a pretty dark eyed bud of Vineburg are the principals is to terminate in wedding bells upon his return from over seas, so it is whispered.

Do not forget that the daylight saving schedule goes into effect tomorrow.
